Wage Increase Expected In Phone Dispute

Strike Postponed;
Negotiations Said
Near Settlement

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—Telephone workers and the huge Bell system appeared to be heading toward a general wage settlement today after indefinite postponement of the national phone strike set for this morning.

New talks that lasted all night and into this morning in New York City were adjourned to a later hour today without any final agreement. But confident federal mediators reported continued progress.

Two major moves toward peace came quickly last night after the strike was postponed by the CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA), and talks resumed with the Bell parent corporation, American Telephone & Telegraph Co., and its subsidiaries.

First, union long distance operators announced the essentials of a wage agreement granting pay raises up to more than $5 a week.

Second, union equipment installers—already striking against a Bell subsidiary, Western Electric Co.—called off plans to picket and start jamming long distance telephones today.

The break in the seven-month fight that threatened to paralyze the nation's phone system came in a message late yesterday from Joseph A. Beirne, president of the CWA, from Washington to his leaders in New York.

"Recent developments indicate the possibility of agreement in the present Bell system dispute," he told them.

"There will be no strike Wednesday. There will be no picket lines until and unless ordered by the executive board."

The sudden change in front came without explanation, but it was believed the possibility of direct federal intervention may have inclined the company toward new negotiations.

It was understood that Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation Service, had indicated that the government's next step might be to call a presidential fact-finding board to weigh the merits of the dispute.

The company is believed to have viewed this possibility with distaste.

In any event, a new and hopeful air came almost at once from the new talks last night.

Shortly after they were resumed, Robert T. Cressley, vice president of Division 10, the long lines operators—announced that "no strike issues remain to be settled unless there is a drastic change on the company's part."

He added that the settlement "is going to cost the company money."

Other signs of progress, but no details, were reported from late-hour talks involving the other key CWA unit, striking equipment workers of Division 6. This unit jumped the gun in a Monday morning walkout touched off by a local dispute in Indiana, but refrained from picketing that might have precipitated a national strike.

Some of the 10,000 division 6 strikers, all of them heavy equipment installers, were reported heading back for work today in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa and Nebraska.

Only $27 Needed For Memorial Bldg. TV Set

New contributions to the Memorial Building Television Fund today brought the total subscribed to date by local organizations and individuals to $373.

Joe Kelley, manager of the community center, said $400 would cover the purchase and installation of a TV set on the basis of bids received. With $373 in the fund, only $27 remains to be raised, it is pointed out by the Progressive Mothers Club, sponsors of the project.

The club, which donated the first $50, stressed the need of a television set for the enjoyment of the children frequently at the Memorial Building.

Latest donors are: Rotary Club, $50; Catholic Benefit Association, $10; Prospect School P. T. A., $10; Book Club, $5; Al-Ger-Kells Club, $10; Xi Phi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

'Battle of The Champions'

Spelling Bee Finals Friday

Judge Joel H. Sharp

Judge John T. Griesinger

Prof. Peter McCafferty

Rev. Rudolph Miller

Winner of Contest At Steubenville Goes
To Washington, D. C.

AN all-out "battle of the champions," with a trip to Washington, D. C., waiting for the winner, will be staged Friday night at Grant School auditorium in Steubenville.

The event is the grand climax of the first annual Spelling Bee sponsored by The Salem News in cooperation with The East Liverpool Review and the Steubenville Herald-Star.

For the last two months, all over the five counties which the three newspapers serve, elementary school pupils have been matching wits in preliminary contests, wrestling with words like "apologize" and "feudal" and "kangaroo."

It's the winners of these preliminaries—the local champions—who will gather in Steubenville Friday night to see which among them is the grand champion... the winner of a trip to Washington for the National Spelling Bee with all expenses paid by the newspapers.

FOR the occasion, there is a super-secret list of words, arranged especially for use in the "battle of the champions." There are 540 words in it... and they get harder as they go along. At some point down in the list—maybe in the first 100 words, maybe as many as 400 words—the champion will emerge from the field of 35 youngsters to receive the gold medal that goes to the winner.

Pronouncing the words will be Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in East Liverpool. Listening for errors, all ready to sound a bell when they hear a mistake, will be the three contest judges—Joel H. Sharp of Salem, judge of Columbiana county's Common Pleas Court, John J. Griesinger, judge of Jefferson county's Common Pleas Court, and Peter McCafferty, professor of English at the College of Steubenville.

Boy Scouts Will Boost 'SPIC' Drive

Salem's Boy Scouts gave Operation SPIC a big boost Tuesday when their leaders informed the Jaycees, sponsors of the campaign, that five Salem troops will participate in the campaign.

Scouts will clean up yards, vacant lots, garages and other private property on a low hourly rate. Residents who take advantage of having their property cleaned during Operation SPIC may contract for the boys by calling the Operation SPIC headquarters, Salem 6612.

The scouts will use their earnings to send delegates to the International Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., in July, according to County Scout Executive John Hartwell and Northern District Commissioner Joe Pidgeon, who led in arranging the scout efforts in Salem.

The 35 cents an hour charge by the scouts will go directly into the Jamboree fund.

Troops participating are Troop 2, Methodist Church; Troop 3, Presbyterian Church; Troop 5, Christian Church; Troop 6, St. Paul's Catholic Church; and Troop 8, Friends Church.

All assignments will be made at the Operation SPIC booth. Campaign Chairman Horace Schwartz said today while the Scouts are well-known for their energetic work, residents must remember they will not be assigned any heavy tasks which require lifting of large objects.

"The removal of rubbish, clearing of old stands of weeds and the collection of trash by the Scouts will be a valuable contribution to the clean-up, fix-up, paint-up campaign," Schwartz pointed out.

Scouts of Troop 3 also will assist in the program by helping to handle the traffic for the Operation SPIC parade at 4:30 p. m. Friday.

SALES TAX RECEIPTS FALL
The sale of prepaid tax receipts in Columbiana County for the week ending April 15 totalled $23,469.88, considerably under the figure for the corresponding week in 1949, which was $30,546.63.

800 Attend Finale Of Music Festival

Despite the inclement weather, approximately 800 persons attended the repeat performance of Salem's first annual Music Festival Tuesday evening in the Salem High School auditorium.

This brings the attendance for the two nights to more than 1,400. The program was identical to the first entertainment, with one exception. The Little German Band, unable to attend, was replaced by Pat Whitmore, comedy pantomimist who is studying at Kent State University. Miss Whitmore made a hit with her audience.

Proceeds will go toward the purchase of pianos for the High School and the club room of the Memorial building.

Miss Carmen McNicol was house manager for last night's program, while Mrs. Donald Harrison, Miss Mary Elizabeth O'Neil, Mrs. M. A. York and Miss Gertrude Butera were hostesses.

Ushers were Anna Schaeffer, Sally Mayhew, Lois Smith, Bonnie Layden, Joan Schuller, Nancy Trebilcock, Gayle Greenisen, Loreta Cocco, Pat Kroner, Margie Kelly and Sally Calladine. They are members of the Junior Music Study Club and Nu Phi Mu Sorority.

Mrs. Anthony Woina was producer for the concert; Tom Rowlands, technical director; William Wark, director of ticket sales, and Mrs. Thomas E. Crothers, off-stage manager.

A meeting of the Music and Arts Society, which sponsored the festival, planned for tonight has been postponed until May. Announcement of the next meeting will be made by Walter B. Null, acting president.

Columbus Engineer Named City Water Superintendent; Safety-Service Post Created

B. V. BeVier, 52, of Columbus, former city sanitary engineer for the City of Mansfield and previously with the State Department of Health for 22 years, has been appointed Salem's new water superintendent, T. R. Dreyer, Water Commission chairman, announced today.

Dreyer took the action this morning after city council in special session Tuesday night, reorganized by request of Mayor Harry M. Vincent, the water and service departments.

College Murder Laid To Firing

Professor Shot 2,
Then Himself

PERU, Neb., April 26—(AP)—Associates today could offer only one motive—distress over the impending loss of his job—for the tragic behavior yesterday of an otherwise mild-mannered psychology professor who shot and killed two fellow college officials, then himself.

For 24 years Dr. Barney K. Baker, 54, had taught on the beautiful "Campus of the Thousand Oaks" at Peru State Teachers College.

Yesterday morning the new college catalog came out. It revealed publicly for the first time what Dr. Baker had known since last fall—that he was being dropped in a reorganization of the school's department of education.

The catalog, said County Attorney Fred C. Kiechel, may have been the trigger that sent the professor walking wordlessly into the offices of the college President and the head of the education department to kill them at their desks.

Slain were Dr. William L. Nicholas, 48, president of the College since 1946, and Dr. Paul A. Maxwell, 56, education department head and Dr. Baker's immediate superior.

Less than an hour later, Baker's body was found in the living room of his home at the edge of the campus. Neatly laid out were his keys, with pieces of paper to identify them, and a typewritten note with instructions for disposal of the body.

Tacked to the front doorbell was another note: "Tell Prof. (C. A.) Huck (mathematics teacher at the college) to take charge."

Scribbled at the bottom of the typewritten note was the apparent tipoff to the motive:

"Willie (the College president) tried to fire the wrong person." Kiechel called it "obviously a double murder and suicide" and said there would be no inquest.

He said the slayings were "premeditated" and Dr. Baker apparently prepared his notes in advance of the slayings.

Work On Pipe Line
Will Commence Soon

LISBON, April 26—Work on the laying of the 26-inch-pipeline through Columbiana county will begin in the near future, officials of the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. announced today with the unloading of approximately 1,000 sections of casings here and at Columbiana. Thirty-five car loads were unloaded from the Erie tracks near the McKinley Scout reservation northwest of here today and several carloads already have been placed on the Firestone Farms near Columbiana.

Th line, which is even larger than the "big inch," is being laid from Texas to Buffalo.

No Syndicate, 'Mr. Big' Of Gambling Claims

St. Louis Odds
Chief, J. J. Carroll
Testifies At Inquiries

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—Betting Commissioner James J. Carroll of St. Louis—the "Mr. Big" of the odds-making business—told Senators today he knows of no organized nationwide gambling syndicate.

He testified under oath before a Senate commerce subcommittee that so-called "betting commissioners" and bookmakers operate as independent businessmen with no feeling of any "moral wrong," and he insisted there is no connection between big-time gamblers and crime.

"I can state without any mental reservation," he said, "that I know of no such (gambling) syndicate, combination or organiza-

"To the contrary it is my firm belief that all of the accepting and laying off of bets is conducted on a purely competitive basis and there is no relationship between operators, commissioners or by whatever name such businessmen are called."

Carroll was a witness at the committee's hearing on a bill to ban the movement of gambling information across state lines.

Carroll is known to betting men throughout the country as the man who announces the "official" winter-book gambling odds on the Kentucky Derby and the major league baseball races. Hence his title of "commissioner."

But Chairman McFarland (D-Ariz.) told reporters as far as he knows Carroll has violated no federal laws.

Federal agents were reported searching for Frank Erickson of New York to subpoena him as a witness also. New York police officials have described Erickson as a known "lay-off" bettor.

A subpoena has been served at Hot Springs, Ark., on Joe Adonis of New York. But a physician advised McFarland that Adonis is too ill to testify within the next ten days. New York police officials have told Senators that Adonis is "presumed to be a racketeer."

Carroll was the first witness identified with the gambling world to be called before the subcommittee.

Decline In Steel Demands Seen Slow

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—The chairman of United States Steel Corp. says he expects demand for steel products to begin a gradual decline in the last six months of 1950. But he adds this will be a "very good year" for the industry.

Irving S. Olds told a news conference here late yesterday current demand is high and he expects it to last through June. The mills of "Big Steel" are operating this week at 101.1 per cent of rated capacity.

The corporation, whose profits and prices have been targets for congressional critics in recent months, reported net income of $49,217,742 in the first three months this year was slightly below the $49,928,670 reported for the like period a year ago.

Shipments of steel products dropped from a record 5,491,216 net tons in the first 1949 quarter to 5,297,821 tons in the latest three months.

6 Pupils Win 'SPIC' Drive Poster Prizes

Six Salem school children have won Operation SPIC poster contest prizes and 49 other poster artists have been awarded "honorable mention."

Under the direct sponsorship of the Business and Professional Women's Club, the poster contest grade winners will receive appropriate medals for their contributions to the campaign.

The posters, all on the general subject of "Salem Paints, Improves, Cleans," will be shown in downtown store windows to give additional publicity to the two-month campaign.

Judges who selected the winners after hours of inspection are Arthur Vaughan, Tom Rowlands, James Lyle, Howard Dodge and Mildred Franke.

The winners are Mary Jane Parana, seventh grade, St. Paul's Parochial School; Don Beagle, eighth grade, Junior high school; Gianna Whinnery, ninth grade, high school; Don Getz, 10th grade, high school; Kathy Umbach, 11th grade, high school; and Bernice Swetye, 12th grade, high school.

Certificates of honorable mention will go to the following: Seventh graders at Junior High School, Naomi Wallace, Paul D. Barnard, Anne Hansteen, Jeannine Marks, Shirley Asty, Harvey Doyle and Rose Marie Sulea; eighth graders, Jane Myers, Charles Kelly and James Gow; Seventh graders at St. Paul's, Suzie Watterson and Ann Holzbach; eighth graders, Donna Cocco, Joe Hajcak, Donald L. Campana, Vivian Vavrek, Dorothy Watterson, Charles Jones and John Dupal.

High school artists winning honorable mention are seniors, John Miller, Wilma Bingham, Fred Bichsel, Betty Lou Martin, Paul Berger, Ernie Swetye, Donna Schess, Frank Leone, Mitzie Lutsch, JoAnn Conser, Robert Capel, and Janet Trisler; Juniors, Tom Judge, Leon McKenzie, Bob Hill, and John Casta; sophomores, Marilyn Leibhart, Jim Pearson, Mary Ann Mills, Pattie Pasco, Eileen Crawford, Paul Combs, and Gene Strojek; freshmen, Patricia Parana, Doris Rogers, Shirlene Bowman, Robert Stewart, Ruth Ann Altenhof, Carole Coy and George Turney.

In charge of the contest for the B. P. W. were Gertrude A. Butera, Mrs. Thomas Corrigan, Helen Prudner and Daisy Fisher.

SPIC Will Get Aid Of Health League

The Columbiana County Public Health League is cooperating with Operation SPIC by sending their mobile chest X-ray unit here May 3.

"Every civic campaign of this type needs a health spoke in its wheel," Lillian Schroeder, executive secretary of the league said today. Salem residents will have an opportunity to "Check their Chests" for better health, as they clean, fix and paint their homes for better health.

The mobile unit will be stationed at the corner of E. State and S. Broadway, and residents may register at the Economy Savings and Loan office on Broadway.

Miss Schroeder said the Christmas Seal mobile unit has been operating in Salem since 1944 to screen out hidden, spreading cases of tuberculosis. Last October a record total of 1,239 free small films were taken at the Ohio Edison auditorium in a single day.

The visit May 3 will be an additional visit to Salem with a dual purpose: to stress the importance of health in Operation SPIC and to give an opportunity to those persons not served last fall. Chest X-ray service is for all persons 15 years of age or older.

CHECKS WOMAN'S DEATH
YOUNGSTOWN, April 25 — (AP)—Coroner David A. Belinky said he would investigate further the death of Mrs. Anna Booth, 54, whose body was recovered late yesterday from Lake Glacier in Mill Creek park. The woman's husband, Paul Booth, reported she had been in ill health for several months, the coroner said.

Their Home To Receive 'Blitz' Paint Job

Widow, Mother of 4, Is Named Recipient Of Paint-Up Project

Everybody loves a champion! That's just the way everyone who knows Mrs. Mildred Vaughan and her family feels about them. The Vaughns, who live at 335 W. Ninth st., have had to take some mighty rough blows but have come back in self-sufficient unity to win the admiration of all who know them.

Charles Vaughan, a Bliss machinist, died in 1942 leaving Mrs. Vaughan with four small children and an aging invalid mother. But the family has supported itself and has not required "relief" or unusual aid during this time.

Salem's union painters and the Junior Chamber of Commerce are combining their talents through Operation SPIC to do a "blitz" painting job on the Vaughn home as one of the early features of the clean-up, fix-up, paint-up campaign. On Sunday, May 14, the union painters will swarm over the two-story frame home to give it a one-coat face-lifting painting.

In a drawing to select one brand of the paint for the job, Dutch Boy was chosen by the painters. Four companies had offered their product free of charge for the blitz.

Mrs. Vaughan said this week she and her family deeply appreciate being selected as a worthy family for the painting. Although she has worked almost ever since her husband's death, the feeding of six mouths is almost more than a "woman-size job." Within six months after losing Mr. Vaughan she went to work at Goodyear Aircraft in Akron and rode back and forth every day. Her mother, Mrs. Frances Bowen, 81, has lived with the family since that time and, although bedridden part of the time, has helped to guide the growing children.

Joyce, 16, Audrey, 14, William, 11, and Orrin, 8, are strong, good-looking children and are positive proof that Mrs. Vaughan has met disaster successfully. The girls sew competently as well as cook. The children have the usual quota of "different" dresses and other clothing although many are revitalized versions of older garments. Joyce and Audrey are much-sought-after baby-sitters. They do no steady work because of their mother's condition.

Four years ago, Mrs. Vaughan went to work for the Ohio Bell as a long-distance operator. American newsstands place many British publications on sale as promptly as they appear on London newsstands. Publishers fly first editions across the Atlantic and take advantage of the five-hour difference in time.

Candidate Busch Outlines Farm Plan

MANSFIELD, April 26—(AP)—A Democratic senatorial candidate said last night the idea of a government farm program should be to support high farm income rather than high food prices.

Henry M. Busch of Cleveland outlined to a Mansfield audience a farm program which he said would put food surpluses in grocery stores rather than warehouses and guarantee a full 100 per cent parity to all family farmers.

He said the first point would reduce the cost of living in cities and head off the revolt against agricultural aid. The second funds allotted each year.

Ohio Paratrooper's Death Penalty Stayed

WASHINGTON, April 26 — (AP)—The life of an Ohio paratrooper, convicted of killing two Japanese, was spared by commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment, the White House announced yesterday.

Cpl. Harold Seevers of Wade (Washington county) and a soldier from South Dakota were charged jointly with killing two Japanese men in Sapporo, Japan, in November, 1948.

The White House said President Truman acted on recommendation of the Army's judge advocate general in commuting Seevers' sentence.

More Powerful A-Bombs Now?

Defense Department Hints At Improvement

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—The United States apparently is producing a variety of special bomb casing in which its new, immensely more powerful atomic explosives can be used against any type of enemy target.

With such specialized containers or missiles, the atomic bomb ceases to be only a mass destruction weapon for a shot-gun style of attack on an industrial city. It could be used against particular and difficult targets such as underground fortifications and factories.

A laconic phrase in the semi-annual report of Defense Secretary Johnson gives a significant hint. Says Johnson: "Atomic weapons are no longer a small number of bombs of a single type and size to be used only strategically on a carefully selected target."

His reference appeared to be this: The only two atomic bombs used in wartime attacks were exploded in the air over Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Of the two bombs publicly demonstrated after that, in the Bikini test of 1946, one was airburst like those used on Japan. The other was fired underwater after long and careful preparation, impossible under war conditions. The bombs were used, as Johnson said, "only strategically."

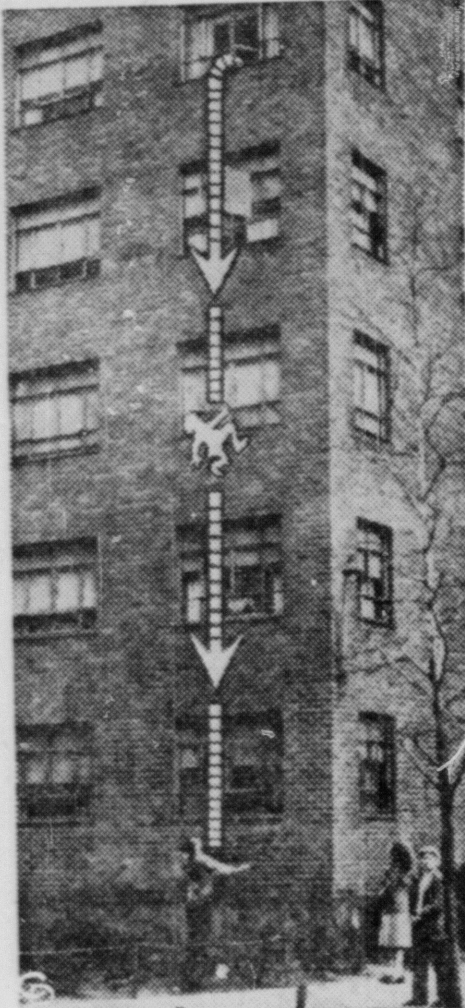

While neither the defense department nor Atomic Energy Commission is inclined to go beyond the cautiously phrased statement of Johnson, problems encountered in World War II and results of tests at Bikini and Eniwetok proving ground suggest here are some of the objectives of the atomic weapon:

1. An A-bomb encased in a deep-penetration type jacket similar to the "tall boy" bomb developed in the closing days of the war. The function of this conventional explosive bomb was to bore deep into the earth before exploding. The objective was to produce an earth shock to crumble underground installations. The allies never were able to solve the problem of attack on U-boat pens, tucked away along the coast under thick layers of earth and reinforced concrete. A deep-penetration atomic bomb may be the answer.

2. An atomic marine mine which can be pre-set to explode or be detonated by remote electronic control. Such a weapon may be dropped from a plane (as thousands of standard mines were during the war) or planted stealthily from a submarine stealing into an enemy harbor.

3. An atomic bomb designed to explode on impact with the ground or a few hundred feet above it if a proximity fuse is used and possibly with its force of explosion under some control (if Johnson's reference to "size" is taken literally.) A weapon of this nature is tactical—for use against enemy forces. Dropped from the air or carried by guided missile, its logical targets would include heavy concentration of troops on a beachhead or at a port of embarkation area.

Fichter Tells Work Of Grange To Group

COLUMBIANA, April 26—Joseph W. Fichter, master of the Ohio State Grange, told of the organization and work of the grange Monday evening at a meeting of the Columbiana Rotary Club with members of Midway Grange at the grange hall, southwest of Columbiana.

Speaking on "What the Grange is and What It Does," Mr. Fichter gave a brief history of the grange and how it started in 1867. It was the first organization to include women on an equality with men and a little later young people of 14 years and upward. Finally the junior grange for the 5-14 year age group was organized.

Mr. Fichter, a former governor of the southern Ohio district of Rotary, No. 159, spoke of the similarity of aims of the two organizations. The grange has a ritual and emphasizes agriculture and rural life.

Both men and women members of Midway Grange were in attendance. Grange Master Ben Weingart and Vice President Allan White of Rotary presided. I. P. Lewis of New Waterford was the Rotary Club program chairman.

Mrs. Kenneth Bell had charge of entertainment, which included music by the grange male quartet, Mr. Weingart, Thomas Cope, D. M. Weikart and Paul Zimmerman; a vocal solo by Mrs. Mary Schnader, accompanied by Miss Margaret Cook, and trumpet solos by Jimmy Russell, accompanied by his sister, Donna.

Next Monday evening, the box social and ladies' night will be held in the high school auditorium, the proceeds going to the crippled children's fund.

Vouchers For $15,000 Located After Suit

COLUMBUS, April 26—(AP)—The state auditor's office apparently held the answer today to the whereabouts of vouchers for $15,000 which started a contempt action against T. J. Kauer, state highway director.

Mr. and Mrs. French Wilgus started a contempt action in Bellefontaine yesterday, asserting Kauer had not followed court orders to pay them $15,000 for a right-of-way over U. S. Route 33 at Russells Point.

An assistant highway department auditor said the vouchers were submitted to finance Director H. D. Defenbacher April 1.

A spokesman in the finance director's office said the vouchers were now in the hands of the state auditor's office.

Reserve Professor Gets AEC Research Contract

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission reported today it has awarded 12 new contracts in physical research totaling $1,345,660 during the first three months of 1950.

The largest was for $1,359,000 for a billion volt electron synchrotron at the California Institute of Technology.

Other institutions getting contracts, and the supervisor, include: Dr. A. Cobas, Western Reserve University.

DiSalle Suggests UN Solve Plane Shooting

CINCINNATI, April 26—(AP)—A suggestion that the United Nations be asked to fix the blame for the alleged shooting down of an American naval plane in the Baltic was made here last night by Mayor Michael V. DiSalle.

DiSalle, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, made the suggestion in a speech at a Hamilton county Democratic rally.

"Let the sanction of public opinion fall over the aggressor," he said. "Let the whole world know who the enemies of peace really are."

The Toledo mayor, who seeks to oppose U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft for the senatorial seat, said that Taft's neighbors "know his over-all partisanship."

"His kind of thinking," he said, "is the same that puts him on the side of isolationism while other equally notable Republicans support a broad-visioned foreign policy—bi-partisan and unselfish."

Elbow In The Ribs

THE UNITED STATES and its Allies in Berlin have no solution to the problem of the Communist demonstration scheduled for May 28. They've been looking for an answer for generations, without success.

The Kremlin-inspired plan to send shock waves of marchers from the Russian sector of Berlin into the western section on May 28 is a familiar practice. It is essentially the same thing that Marxist demonstrators have been doing in every sizable city in the western hemisphere for decades.

The strategy is to confront police authorities with a choice between letting the demonstrators override it and giving the demonstrators the fight they're itching for. If it asserts itself at the expense of a few fatalities, it make martyrs of the rioters. If it doesn't assert itself, it loses face and ultimately is threatened with loss of control. New York, Paris and Berlin itself have seen dozens of these demonstrations. They are one of the chronic headaches of big-city police practices.

They represent the basic philosophy of modern Communism—that dictatorship imposed in the name of the proletariat begins with violence and terror. There is only one safeguard, the poise and judgment of the intended victims of violence and terror.

The Kremlin's plan for demonstrations on May 28 is a bid for chaos.

The People's Confidence

THE GENERAL tone of complaints by spokesmen for the State Department against Senator McCarthy and anyone else lifting an eyebrow in the department's direction is that the people's confidence in an agency of government is being destroyed.

That's a pretty broad assumption. In the United States confidence isn't destroyed by public discussion. It's seriously undermined, however, when the suspicion becomes general that things won't bear public discussion. Even then there's no loss of confidence in any particular agency of government. There's merely a loss of confidence in certain individuals who have been in control of a particular agency of government. Henry Wallace, for example, inspired as much confidence as Secretary of Commerce as a hungry cat in charge of a brood of baby chickens. It's too late to do anything about it, but some of the people who made a horrible mess of State Department affairs during and after World War II aren't inspiring much confidence in retrospect either, which is not a reflection on the State Department itself.

No Lack of Feeling

THE SAFEST BET in politics for 1950 is that there will be a minimum of public interest in the Ohio primaries. The only question is how slight the minimum will be. The apathy of voters may reach an all-time low on May 2.

If apathy is a lack of feeling, some other way must be found to describe why the primaries are being neglected. There is no lack of popular feeling about politics in 1950. Feelings never have been stronger.

What does exist is a state of political frustration which manifests itself in a feeling of despair, with a corresponding neglect of electoral processes. It is the same thing which excited in 1948 when all predictions of electoral behavior went haywire because voters themselves went haywire.

The despair seems to have its origin in the inability of voters to believe that the instrumentality of politics can give them what they want. In this they are only reflecting the cynicism of politicians, who have found little evidence during the last 17 years that voters really know what they want.

Politicians recall that public opinion polls repeatedly have revealed that voters are opposed in principle to many of the same things they support in practice. And it would have to be a Pollyannaish politician indeed who could stomach without bad effects the current spectacle of taxpayers objecting to a budget-paring order in the Postoffice Department, while continuing to complain about high taxes.

A miracle could produce a heavy turnout for the primary next Tuesday. But politics doesn't produce miracles. It only registers them. They are produced, if at all, by human faith. Too many years of too much disappointment, coupled with the prospect of more years of disappointment ahead have been hard on human faith in politics.

Proud Record of Air Safety

NEWSPAPERS are always quick to splash the story of a major airplane crash. The headlines too frequently obscure the generally excellent safety records made by our chief airlines.

A strong sedative for the nerves of citizens frightened about air travel is the performance of Colonial Airlines, an American company flying between our eastern seaboard and eastern Canadian cities.

Colonial has just completed 20 years—no less—without a single fatality or serious injury to either passengers or crew. This performance, carried out over difficult flying terrain, is without challenge in U. S. aviation history.

It's a mark for all to shoot at, and something to remember the next time you see those black "crash" headlines staring at you.

Russian Style Spring Fever

REPORTS from Europe indicate the Soviets are flexing their muscles along the eastern front of the cold war. These power moves come at a time when U. S.-Russian relations are at boiling point over the vicious attack on the U. S. Navy patrol plane over the Baltic area.

Nobody can say why the Russians pick this particular time to intensify the cold war. The Senate is considering the $3,366,450,000 foreign aid bill. If it is passed the Russians can claim a good bit of the credit.

Do the Russians think they can scare us into spending money to the point of going broke to express himself in supposedly free America—he called John Lewis a "dictator."

Promptly the totalitarianism of the American labor-union movement—the "closed shop"—closed in on Dickmon and he was suspended from the union and immediately the employer was compelled, of course, to dismiss him from his job. He has been out of work three months. For in free America under the totalitarian "closed shop," or "union shop," the union dictates that anyone who isn't "in good standing" in a union can be ordered fired from his job.

That's Where Your Money Goes

IT COSTS your government $10 to process an order for a 50-cent typewriter ribbon.

Cost of government can be reduced! Government can be made more efficient! Remind Congress you want the Hoover commission's recommendation put into effect—and no fooling!

Bibbidi Bobbidi Boo

By Hal Boyle

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK — (AP) — Not everybody could write, "Salagala doola menchika boola bibidi bobbidi boo."

It takes an intuitive sense, a feel, a touch, or something. You got it or you haven't got it.

This is the secret of such creation, says Mack David and Jerry Livingston, two rational young men who wrote the current song hit, "Bibbidi Bobbidi Boo" (Copyright Walt Disney Music Corp.).

If you're wondering what "salagala doola," etc., means, don't. It means nothing except about $30,000 to David and Livingston, who wrote the music for the movie, "Cinderella." These boys are experts. They have a case history of irrational hits, having turned out "Mairzy Doats" and "Chi Baba, Chi Baba."

Over a cup of coffee, the composers tried to explain how "Bibbidi Bobbidi Boo" came about.

"IT'S REALLY harder to explain than write," David began. "Actually, you go into a room and bang it out," said Livingston. David, being the man who writes the words, did most of the talking. He explained the specific problem that led to the song. They needed a tune and lyrics which would help depict the scene where the fairy godmother turns the pumpkin into a splendid coach and the mice into horses.

"We needed words to suggest the mumbo-jumbo of magic," said Livingston, "but not the usual abracadabra stuff. We needed nonsense words with a good rhythm, to go with the rolling of the coach."

So, putting on their loafers and their sports jackets they went to work in a studio where they could draw inspiration from the San Fernando valley and the surrounding purple hills.

David was the pacer, Livingston was the sifter. David, the nervous branch of the partnership, wore out the rug and three to four packs of cigarettes a day.

While David was walking up and down, occasionally surrendering to chairs which stretched out to beds, Livingston sat at the piano smoking what he calls his "dreaming cigar." He smoked and "mooded," which means he casually stroked the piano keys, hitting an experimental chord now and then.

"WE TRIED many, many different combinations of sounds, of meaningless words," said David. "We rolled them on our tongue and ran them through our ears. We must have discarded 30 or 40 combinations, and it's funny isn't it, I can't remember one of them now. Maybe it's because I don't want to."

"It's just an intuitive sense. It either feels right or it doesn't. No other way to explain it." After two weeks of intensive effort, in the studio, in restaurants and in their homes, David finally came up with the first two lines.

From then on, the lyrics and the melody just rolled out. It took only one more day to finish the job.

"Lots of guys try nonsense songs," concluded Livingston. "But they miss because they just fluff off the melody."

"And the sounds have to be just right," said David. "Of course, you don't get anywhere without the right melody," said David.

Joe Dickmon's Case Is Real Lesson

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON MILLIONS of words have been spoken in Congress and on the stump about "civil rights," and yet, when the case of Joe Dickmon is considered, one wonders if it isn't after all in some of its aspects just a phony issue which merely emphasizes the hypocrisy of politicians.

For Joe Dickmon has lost not only his civil rights — his right to speak

and his right to work—but he has been punished for trying to exercise them.

Joe Dickmon is a navy veteran with a wife and child. He wanted to work five days a week instead of three at the only trade he knows—coal mining. But he made the mistake of trying to express himself in supposedly free America—he called John Lewis a "dictator."

Promptly the totalitarianism of the American labor-union movement—the "closed shop"—closed in on Dickmon and he was suspended from the union and immediately the employer was compelled, of course, to dismiss him from his job. He has been out of work three months. For in free America under the totalitarian "closed shop," or "union shop," the union dictates that anyone who isn't "in good standing" in a union can be ordered fired from his job.

ONCE a union member of fends a union officer, he can be expelled from the union. He holds his job not because of the quality of the work he does but because of his willingness to bootlick his union officers.

With his wife and child hungry, Dickmon decided to apologize and retract what he had said. He is hoping now that the union will give him work. He has despaired of getting work any other way. He has learned that in free America the real government is the labor union's government.

For nobody in Congress took up the cause of Joe Dickmon. Nobody demanded an investigation of totalitarian methods in American unions and put on a filibuster till he got action. Nobody told the "Voice of America" to soft-pedal its proud broadcasts to Russia about how free the American workingman is—and nobody in the Truman administration, which boasts of a deep interest in the "little man," stopped for a moment to give Dickmon a word of sympathy, much less the benefit of an investigation by the Department of Justice or FBI such as occurs when negroes are "lynched" in the South. None of the so-called liberal organizations active in promoting civil rights took up Dickmon's plight.

Obstinacy

By TRUMAN TWILL

WE ran into an idea the other day that's hard to shrug off—a Legion of Obsolete Men and Women, dedicated to the proposition that the way to keep this country from being rushed off its feet is to plant aforesaid feet on the ground and refuse to budge.

Obstinacy is probably the greatest of all valuable qualities to possess if a person sets a high value on liberty. An obstinate person may be a headache to the politicians who can't persuade him to see things their way—and sometimes they're right. But he's the pride and joy of everybody who believes that nine out of ten things proposed by politicians would be better left undone anyway, at least in their original form.

There may be some occasions when the obstinate voter passes up a chance to get a free meal for nothing, but there are many, many more occasions when all he passes up is a chance to snap at a chunk of bait with a barbed hook in it.

He may be cursed at for being like a mule, though mules have compelled the world's admiration for their ability to get things done. But he won't be snickered at behind closed doors and over the flowing cups for behaving like a sheep; i.e., letting himself be led to the slaughter.

The whole bold experiment of setting up a republican form of government here among the wild Indians came from the minds of obstinate men who would be double dad-blasted if they'd hold still for the funny business of a lot of censored so-and-so's stuffed with a sense of importance because they worked for a king. Obsolete men did the first squawking and the first shooting.

They were so obstinate they didn't know when they were licked. They didn't know any more about fighting than a pig knows about Christmas but they'd started something and they kept plugging away at it.

As it happens, the Legion of Obsolete Men and Women that has come to this column's attention is mainly for the purpose of resisting more taxes. That's all right as far as it goes, but we're interested in the idea, not in the organization. We're going to resist more taxes that waste people's wealth and reserve the right to believe in taxes that help them to increase their wealth. That's obstinacy, too.

There's no lack of things in this country to be obstinate about, including the right of other people to be obstinate about points of view that don't happen to coincide with your own. Being a mule instead of a sheep has nothing to do, after all, with one particular set of opinions as against some other set of opinions. It amounts to reserving the right to make up your own mind about everything. It is the right to refuse to believe in anything, if nothing seems worth believing at any given moment.

This Legion of Obsolete Men and Women — anything, in fact, that has a tendency to stimulate self-determination among Americans—can pack more wallop in the battle to keep freedom intact than any other thing. Because it deals with an idea, and nothing under the sun is so hard to lick as an idea.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

THE Texas flier who looped the loop 1,874 times in six hours could have gotten the same effect attending a senate committee hearing . . . and in less time.

He got out of his plane feeling like a man who had paid his taxes, counted his balance and heard a statement on our greater prosperity all in one day.

No one knows just why a man would loop-the-loop at the rate of 300 times per hour but he may be a candidate practicing for the fall elections.

This is the year we try to give Harry the kind of legislators that would please him . . . it's kind of difficult because they've got to be living.

Jimmie Roosevelt has already gotten labor's political league endorsement in California and Gov. Warren may have to run with just people backing him.

Young Franklin says he doesn't want to be governor of New York (just now) and Elliott is sticking to producing TV programs which sometimes are as entertaining as Congress.

Views On McCarthy

By PETER EDSON

Editorial Comment Is Widely Divided

WASHINGTON

Joe McCarthy did a lot of good for himself in his address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, meeting in Washington. A. S. N. E. is made up of about 600 working newspaper editors—the men who direct editorial policy.

More than 300 of them were present for the annual Washington meeting and heard McCarthy talk. The impression they carried away with them will have important bearing on the editorials they write in the future on McCarthy's charges of communism in government.

McCarthy got heavy applause from the editors during and after his speech. A part of it was admiration for an ex-Marine who could keep swinging even after he had taken an awful lot of punishment in and out of Congress. But many of the editors who came to doubt were obviously impressed.

McCarthy has developed a good political fighting technique. He can revolve with the punch like a rooster on a weathervane. He attacks constantly. He keeps repeating his charges: "Lattimore is the architect of our China policy . . . Acheson is incompetent . . . The Communist line shapes the thinking of our State Department."

He has an answer for everything. Most of the time it is not a direct answer. He ignores evidence that does not support his charges. When he is proved wrong about something he ignores it. The net effect is that he is convincing to a lot of people who want to believe in him.

MANY of the newspaper editors in Washington were extremely critical of the Washington press corps. They said Washington correspondents were as wrong on McCarthy as they were on the 1948 election. The charge is that the Washington correspondents are too close to the scene—too much influenced by the Democratic administration and the State Department to know how the rest of the country feels about this.

As one editor expressed it, "McCarthy's charges have swept the country like a prairie fire." As McCarthy himself expressed it, "My activities are opposed by almost everyone except the American people."

If this is the case, it may be pertinent to ask how the American people found out about this situation? The answer would seem to be that the Washington press and radio corps could not have done such a bad job, or the news wouldn't be out.

There is no accurate gauge on what editorial opinion has been on the McCarthy charges. In general, the Knight, McCormick and Hearst press has been pro-McCarthy. Scripps - Howard, while critical of State Department's China policy, has held back on expressing any conviction about the McCarthy charges.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Proper Care Of The Skin Important

THE skin is more than just a protective covering for the rest of the body. The sweat glands empty moisture on the skin which helps to regulate the body temperature. Oil glands help to make the skin loose and pliable. Indeed, the skin is one of the most important parts of the body and should be treated with respect, in spite of its toughness.

The area of the skin is large. At any point the skin may come in contact with the air, with dusts, with chemicals, with moisture, with clothing and with a great many other things which can be irritating.

Inactivity, overheated rooms, improper clothing, all interfere with the normal functioning of the skin. Too heavy clothing delays the loss of heat by enclosing air between the fibers of the clothing itself. Woolen fibers, for example, keep air in the mesh quite well though such fibers are scaly and rough.

Cotton and many other fabrics retain air less well and are consequently known as "cooler" fabrics and are worn more in hot weather. Rubber clothing has certain special uses, but is not healthy for long wear since rubber is not porous and prevents normal evaporation of moisture from the skin.

The color of clothing affects the skin. Dark clothing absorbs more heat and, therefore, should be chosen for cold weather.

Proper care of the skin includes cleanliness. Daily bathing is generally considered desirable not only because of its cleansing action on the skin, but also because it stimulates the circulation and muscles and nerves in the skin.

For cleansing purposes, a bath with the water at temperatures of about 96 to 100, with the use of soap, is supposed to be best. The cold bath which brings a warm glow to the skin and a feeling of well-being, is stimulating. However, a person who is elderly or whose blood circulation is not very good must be careful of the shock of cold baths.

Sunlight is good for the skin as well as for the body as a whole. Indeed certain rays of the sun produce vitamin D in the skin which is absorbed into the body and is extremely important for good health. Sunlight which tans the skin without burning does the most good.

The hands, face and hair need to be kept clean, nails trim, and hangnails removed. Thorough cleansing of the face at night to remove the accumulations of dirt, is of great importance if one wishes to keep a good complexion.

Considering how much of it there is, it is not surprising that good care of the skin has a great deal to do with maintaining health and good looks.

Student Leaders Check Campus Row

OXFORD, April 26—(AP)—Miami University student leaders started their own investigation today in an effort to fix the blame for a disturbance Monday night in which several windows were broken and other damage done.

The student-faculty council, made up of 44 students and six faculty members, notified Miami Vice-President C. W. Kreger that it would seek to determine who was responsible for the affair and would assess campus organizations for the damage done to dormitories and other places.

It said it also would try to learn the names of individuals responsible.

Earlier, the Inter-Fraternity Council, consisting of presidents of the various fraternities, issued a statement declaring "whole-hearted disapproval of the riotous actions."

The demonstration came on the eve of the annual campus election. It's a custom for the opposing sides in the election to try to douse each other with water on the night before the voting. This time, however, someone summoned extra police from outside Oxford.

The students then staged a parade through town and around the campus and it was during that march that the windows were broken and other damage done.

Five Akron Youths Held In Suit Theft

AKRON, April 26—(AP)—Police today held five Akron youths, one a University of Akron student, in connection with the theft of $1,100 worth of suits in Cleveland.

Five thieves took an armload of suits apiece from a department store's display rack and ran at closing time Monday.

One man was caught then but 4 others fled in a yellow convertible car which had handkerchiefs tied over its license plates.

Gas Co. Seeks O. K. On County Pipeline

WASHINGTON, April 25—(AP)—Permission to build two pipelines and underground storage facilities in northeastern Ohio was asked of the power commission yesterday by the East Ohio Gas Co. of Cleveland.

The projects, which the company said could be completed by next fall, would cost about $1,500,000. They include:

Twenty-four miles of pipeline from a connection near Petersburg, O., with the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. line now under construction to East Ohio's Austintown station near Youngstown. The line would cost $982,565. The Tennessee line will run from Kentucky to Buffalo.

The company estimated the cost of the other improvements at $622,700. They include:

Gas storage inlets and outlet lines in Columbiana, Mahoning and Portage counties, a compressor station in Columbiana, and an underground natural gas storage pool in Columbiana county.

APPROVE SMOKE CONTROL
YOUNGSTOWN, April 25—(AP)—A smoke control ordinance modeled after Pittsburgh's, was approved unanimously by city council last night. A clause requiring the use of smokeless fuel in homes had been stricken out. The law becomes effective July 1, with a two-year grace period.

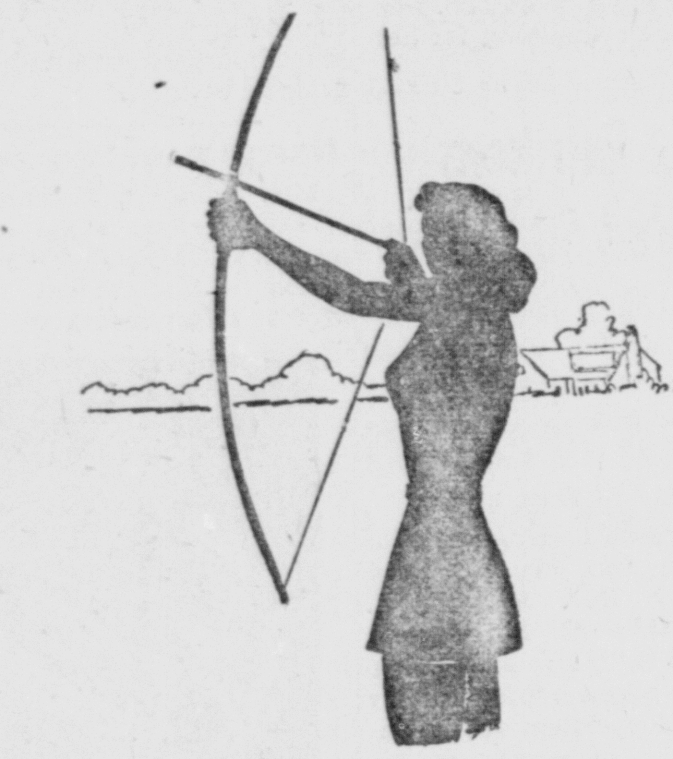

STRIKE CONTINUES
YOUNGSTOWN, April 25—(INS)—More than 1,000 employees of the Republic Steel Corp. plant in Youngstown are idle today because of two strikes involving about 200 workers. The strikes occurred in the tube mill shipping department and the 48-inch strip mill.

BODY FOUND IN WELL.—The body of Miss Betty Renner, (above) 38-year-old Washington, D. C. lawyer, was found in an open well in a quarry near Nassau, Bahamas. Police believe she was murdered. Miss Renner, a former Justice Department attorney, had served in Tokyo, Japan on the staff of Joseph B. Keenan, prosecutor in the war crimes trials.

Leetonia Council To Ask Street Levy

LEETONIA, April 26—Council will ask voters to approve a five-mill levy at the primary election May 2 to provide sufficient funds for the village's proposed street improving program. Street repair and maintenance costs require all the road and street funds allotted each year.

When streets are paved, the village has to share the expense of intersections, engineering costs and other incidentals. With the rising costs each year, council has been unable to have a fund for improvement of streets after paying current expenses. If the five-mill levy is approved, Leetonia will be assured of having some of its more heavily traveled streets paved this year.

Miss Helene Prudner To Head Professional Women's Club

MISS HELENE PRUDNER, employee of the Ohio Edison Co., is the new president of the Salem Business & Professional Women's Club. She succeeds Miss Ruth Cosgrove, who held this post for two years.

Miss Prudner was the first secretary of the club and last year filled the offices of vice president and publicity chairman.

Other officers, who will be inducted with Miss Prudner at the fifth installation dinner Wednesday evening, May 24, in the Presbyterian Church are: Vice president, Mrs. Margaret Lamont; secretary, Mrs. William Park; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Byerley.

Mrs. Grace Parry, president of the Akron Club and the new director of District 4, will be mistress of ceremonies.

Plans for this event were made at a dinner meeting of the club Monday evening in the Blue Room of the Metzger Hotel. Guests were Albert Hanna and Mrs. Margaret Horch of the Central Clinic staff; Mrs. Robert Buchholdt, Mrs. Florence Hill and Mrs. J. H. Yengling.

Mrs. Yengling entertained with two soprano solos, "The Swallows" and "Dream Cottage." They were well received.

A report was made on the benefit conducted by the club. Proceeds were used for the club's speech development clinic and to complete payment of a pledge made toward the endowment of a room at the Central Clinic.

Mrs. James Rawsthorne and Miss Gladys Beiter gave interesting reports on the Spring District meeting held April 16 in Niles.

Four new members were accepted into the club, Mrs. LeRoy E. Beery, Patricia Loutzenhiser, and Rose Roberts of Salem and Miss Margaret Conway of Alliance. A welcome was also extended to Leona Ehrhart of Columbiana and Mrs. Nellie Kerr of Salem, who recently joined the club.

Miss Belle Golladay, who fractured her leg in a fall several months ago, was welcomed back at this meeting.

Winner of the poster contest sponsored by the club as its part in the Operation SPIC project will receive their medals at the Friday night ceremony in the high school. The annual state convention is slated for May 19, 20 and 21 in Toledo.

Mrs. Gene Frock Talks To W. P. O. E. Auxiliary

Mrs. Gene Frock, Mahoning County home demonstration agent, used for her theme, "Time Is Wasting," when she gave a talk to members of the W.P.O.E. Auxiliary Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Fredrick Leimbach, N. Ellsworth ave.

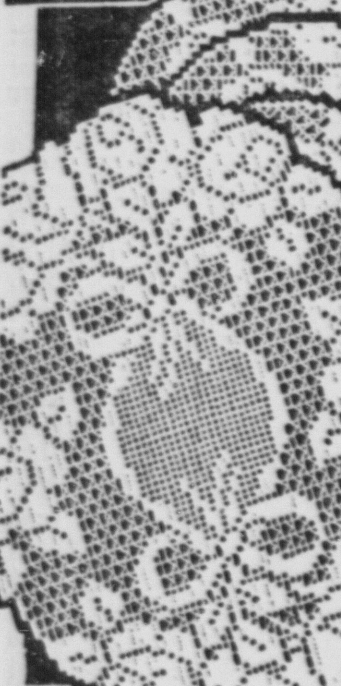

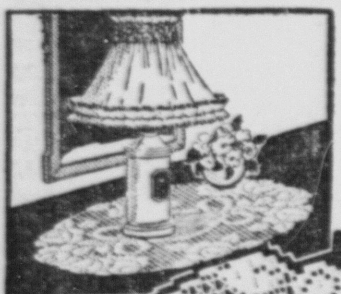

Mrs. Frock gave suggestions in short-cut kitchen work. She is a cousin of the hostess. In a baby picture contest Mrs. Herbert Fischer, Mrs. Phil Cozad and Mrs. L. D. Beardmore claimed honors.

The members also made plans for summer activities. Mrs. H. I. Beck assisted the hostess in serving lunch. May 22 meeting will be with Mrs. Wilford Stratton, W. Fourth st.

Benefit Party Planned

The benefit card party planned by members of the Salem Hospital Auxiliary for 8 p. m. Thursday in the Masonic temple will be their only benefit this year. Proceeds will promote the comfort and welfare of the student nurses.

Valley School PTA Elects New Officers

THE VALLEY School Parent-Teacher Association has named new officers for the 1950-51 season. They are: President, Jay Denny; vice president, Raymond Denny; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Walter Powell.

Mrs. Harvey Stryfeler was in charge of the program at last week's meeting. These numbers were included:

Recitations, John Stryfeler, David Eddy, Eddie Scott, Leonard Wurthick, Leonard Powell; piano duet, Edith Ann Miller and Patricia Denny; piano solos, Billy Ballis, Donna Denny and Patricia Denny; vocal duet, Marlene Stryfeler and Mrs. Herbert Stryfeler; vocal solo, Carolyn Stryfeler; quiz and contest won by Ernest Gerber and Mrs. Lorin Scott.

Plans were made for a basket picnic dinner May 26, the last day of school. Dinner will be in charge of Mrs. Lorin Scott, while Mrs. Jay Denny will arrange the entertainment.

Legion Band To Appear In 2 Weekend Parades

The American Legion Quaker City band will rehearse at 8:30 p. m. Thursday in preparation of numbers to be used in two weekend parades.

The band will be the first unit in the Operation SPIC parade at 4:30 p. m. Friday and also will compete Sunday afternoon in Akron when the Elks hold their district convention. Final touches will be made on new and old march selections Thursday for the two street appearances.

Members of the band will form at 4 p. m. Friday for the "SPIC" parade and at 1 p. m. Sunday to board a bus for the trip to Akron. The bands will assemble at 2:30 p. m. in Akron and parade will begin at 3 p. m.

Book Review Presented To Lydia Bible Class

Mrs. Russell Fortune gave an entertaining review of the book, "Rosanna of the Amish," (Yoder) for members of the Lydia Bible Class of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church and guests Tuesday evening in the church social room. Mrs. Celia Greenisen was program chairman.

The roll call response was "A Good Book I Have Read Recently." There was group singing with Mrs. Carl Aeschlimann at the piano.

Lunch was served to 28 by the hostesses Mrs. Deuber Miller, Mrs. Walter Black, Mrs. Norman Boarts and Mrs. Wilbert Beck.

Plans were made for a Mother-Daughter party May 22 in the church. A coverdinner will be featured.

Club Will Convene

The West Side Community Club will hold a meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McKee on the Damascus rd. Miss Josephine Markovich, Mrs. Price Cope and Mrs. George Stowe will have charge of the program.

Society Will Meet

Members of the Sunshine Society will meet Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Warren Bare, Aetna st.

June Stewart Wed To Richard Wagner

BECAUSE it was the 63rd birthday anniversary of her grandmother, Mrs. William Schöpfer of Homeworth, Miss June Stewart chose last Saturday for her marriage to Richard Wagner.

Custom of open church was observed in the Homeworth Presbyterian Church for their wedding at 2:30 p. m. in which Rev. Thomas Holmes, pastor, read the double ring ceremony.

Two baskets of white flowers decorated the chancel that was banked in greenery and lighted by white candles in candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin and lace gown. Her finger-length veil of illusion fell from a seeded pearl Juliet cap and she carried white hyacinths with ivy.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Carole Stewart appeared in a floor-length frock of aqua taffeta. She carried multi-colored hyacinths.

Constance Bricker of Salem and Jeffrey Schöpfer of Homeworth, cousins of the bride, were the flower girl and ring bearer.

Robert Wagner served his brother as best man. Another brother, Ronald Wagner, and Bernard Schöpfer, uncle of the bride, were the ushers. The musical prelude was presented by Mrs. Paul Hoffman, accompanist, and Mrs. Robert Pickens and Robert Hahn, vocalists.

Approximately 300 guests were entertained at the reception. Assisting the guests were two aunts of the bride, Mrs. Robert Bricker of Salem and Mrs. Bernard Schöpfer of Homeworth.

Mrs. Wagner is a graduate of the College of Wooster and is employed in the office of Mt. Union College, Alliance. Her husband attended Ohio State University and is employed by the Ohio Public Service Co.

MR. AND MRS. Frank E. Entriken of the Salem-Lisbon rd. will mark their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house reception from 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p. m. Sunday in their home.

Miss Florence Freed and Frank L. Entriken were married April 26, 1900, by Rev. George W. Beaver, pastor of St. Jacob's Evangelical & Reformed Church. They have spent most of their married life in Salem and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Entriken are the parents of four children, Mrs. Clyde Gamble of Boardman; Glenn E. Entriken of Orange, N. J.; William Entriken of Guilford Lake and Robert Entriken of Youngstown. They also have four grandsons and one great-granddaughter.

Mr. Entriken was employed by the Deming Co. before he retired.

Eileen Frantum Becomes Bride Of Ross Ickes

HOMEWORTH, April 26—Ross Ickes, son of Mr. Plummer Ickes, and Miss Eileen Frantum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Frantum, were married at the Presbyterian Church here Saturday. Rev. Thomas G. Holmes officiated.

A reception was held at the Frantum home in the evening. The couple will reside temporarily at the Frantum home.

June Stanley Married To Richard M. Jones

Miss June Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stanley of Beloit, became the bride of Richard Manning Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Jones of Minerva last Saturday evening at her home.

Rev. Ralph M. Moyer, friend of the family, performed the ceremony.

A graduate of Beloit High School and the College of Wooster, the bride has been a teacher in the Bedford High School for five years. Her husband graduated from Minerva High School and attended Mt. Union College. He is a student of the Cleveland College of Mortuary Science and a member of Pi Sigma Eta, professional fraternity.

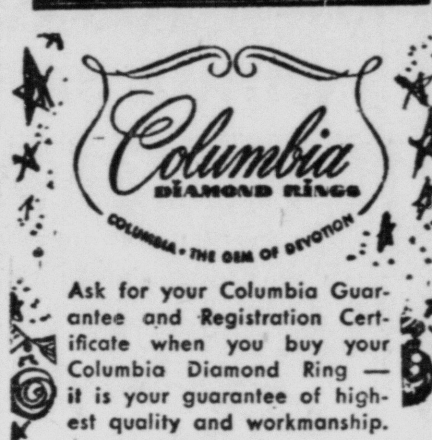

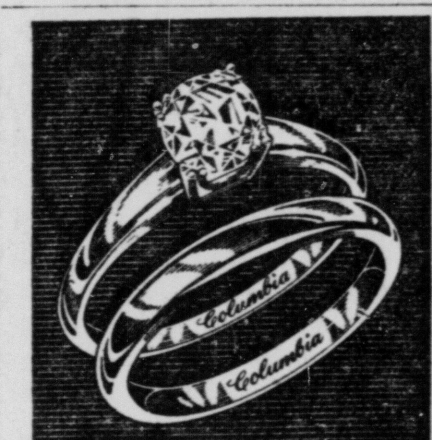

Mr. and Mrs. Jones are residing in Bedford.

Will Present Concert

Students at Greenford High school will present their spring concert at 8 p. m. Friday in the schoolhouse. An entertaining program is planned.

Mathias Moffetts
Honored By Friends

NO SPECIAL PARTY was planned Sunday for the celebration of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Moffett of 170 Park ave., but numerous friends and relatives called throughout the afternoon and evening to wish them well.

They were remembered with gifts, cards and flowers and their seven children were all present. Besides their children, Frank, John, Edward, Harry, Mrs. Fred Benschel, Mrs. Ray Smith of Salem and Mrs. Carl Bender of Wierton, W. Va., they have 10 grandchildren and a great grandchild.

Other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Moffett and children of Pittsburgh, a nephew and niece.

The Moffetts were married

April 23, 1900 in Lisbon and have spent most of their married life in Salem. Mr. Moffett, who retired some years ago from the Electric Furnace Co., is in fairly good health, while his wife is in good health. They have lived in their present home for 45 years.

Their children arranged the informal party complete with a three-tiered wedding cake. Yellow tapers in crystal holders lighted the linen-laid table.

WEDDING BELLS FOR QUADRUPLE AMPUTEE. — Jimmy Wilson, 25, World War II veteran who had parts of both arms and both legs amputated, stands with his fiancée, Miss Dorothy Mortenson, 23, after they announced their engagement last week in Jacksonville, Fla. They plan to be married June 8, three days after Wilson receives his degree at Florida University where he is attending pre-law school. The amputations resulted from injuries received in a plane crash in Connecticut in 1944. Miss Mortenson studied drama at the university and is working now in Jacksonville.

Home Furnishing
Trimble Class Topic

TOPICS dealing with home furnishing interested 26 members and guests of the Presbyterian Trimble Class meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Carence Ward on N. Lincoln ave.

Mrs. Ward was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Harry Wiant, Mrs. John McCormick, Miss Edna Stouffer, Mrs. Eva Woods and Miss Erma Hoopes. Miss Bessie Godward conducted the worship service.

Attractive, well-made hooked rugs, both handmade and shop-made, were used by Mrs. Clyde McFeely to illustrate her talk on hooked rugs. She told something of the history of the art and was assisted in the discussion by Mrs. Emmett Justice, who has made rug making a hobby.

What's new in the furniture line was discussed by Miss Elinor Carrier, who explained that individual personalities should play their part in selection of home furnishings. The latest fabrics and upholstery materials were shown.

The business meeting was in charge of Mrs. E. S. Vincent, vice president and program chairman. The class voted to have its meeting May 23 due to Decoration Day on the regular meeting night. Mrs. Elizabeth Fouts will be the hostess in her home on the Damascus rd.

Ferguson Says Taft
Theories Conflict

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 26—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson told a Columbiana county Democratic rally here last night his campaign for the U. S. Senate and that of Sen. Robert Taft "represent two philosophies of government in head-on conflict."

He told an audience of 200 "one is the fighting liberalism of the Democratic party, the other is reaction—the philosophy that has dominated the Republican party from before the days of Herbert Hoover."

He predicted a "quarter of a million vote" victory over his Republican opponent in November. Rep. Wayne Hays, who flew in from Washington, urged a bipartisan foreign policy, but said "reckless charges of communism under congressional immunity play into their hands."

He said if "we fail the people of the world, the tragedy will be with those who are looking to us for leadership. The very future of mankind is at stake in the elections of 1950."

Men and women party leaders from most of the 18th congressional district attended the dinner event, sparking the party's campaign for the primary less than a week away.

New Dishes Perk Up Appetites

A NEW way of preparing an old standby, or a new combination of familiar ingredients, can perk up the job of feeding the family. The result will perk up the family appetite, too.

Dishes like the following are good examples of what I mean.

Corn Pie With Meat Crust

Crust: Three-quarters pound ground beef, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1/2 cup milk, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons minced onion.

Filling: One and one-half cups drained whole kernel corn, 1 cup well-drained canned tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon basil, butter or fortified margarine.

To make "crust," soak bread crumbs in milk and beaten egg for 5 minutes. Add beef, salt, Worcestershire sauce and onion; mix thoroughly. Line the bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate with mixture. Mix together corn and tomatoes and drain off any excess liquid; add seasonings.

Fill meat shell, dot with butter or margarine and bake for 40 minutes at 350 degrees F. Cut in pie-shaped wedges for serving. Garnish with green pepper rings or parsley.

Bavarian Potato Salad
(6 servings)

Two-thirds cup mayonnaise, 1/4 cup beer, 1/2 cup finely chopped sweet pickles, 1 teaspoon celery seed, 4 cups cubed, cooked potatoes, salt and pepper.

Combine mayonnaise, beer pickles and celery seed; add to potatoes, mix well. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Chill. Can be combined with tomato aspic, or served on salad greens.

Coldest April Hurts Farmers

Sowing Postponed; Early Work Delayed

The coldest April in 24 years is making Ohio farmers kick the side of the barn in frustration.

They have been forced in many cases, to postpone the sowing of oats in hope of warmer weather, a survey shows.

Even worse are the fields sown early. Many of these fields turned out poorly and some had to be planted a second time.

But, activity along the Ohio farm front quickened last week. Chief operations were plowing, dragging or disking ground, oats sowing, potato planting and spraying.

In most local areas the ground is too wet to plow.

Not in 24 years has Ohio had such an April. Temperatures last Saturday, for instance, were under 30 degrees over most of the state.

This kind of weather, said the state weather bureau, raised the threat of considerable damage to peaches and pears in southern Ohio counties.

The bureau's weekly report added:

"Wheat has made rather poor progress and its condition is mostly below what can be considered good."

"Many fields have large spots that are quite poor. Around Columbus a few fields average between six and eight inches high, but many are hardly up to four inches."

The report said application of dormant spray for apples has been practically completed northward to Lake Erie. Peaches and pears, it said, have come to full bloom northward beyond Columbus.

When Pope Gregory started the Gregorian calendar in 1582, he directed that Oct. 4 should be followed by Oct. 15.

Giant Trade Not Too Bad; Dark, Stanky Sparkle

Pace New York To First Win

Dodgers Rap Braves As Yankees Triumph

By JOE REICHLER

They snickered when the New York Giants traded away all that power to the Boston Braves for defense-minded Eddie Stanky and Alvin Dark.

They smiled knowingly when Sid Gordon returned to the Polo Grounds in a Braves' uniform and almost singlehandedly whipped his former mates with a pair of home runs. One came with the bases loaded.

They laughed as Will Marshall, Buddy Kerr and Gordon continued to star for the Braves while Stanky and Dark did nothing at bat or in the field to distinguish themselves. The laughs turned to jeers when Stanky and Dark messed up a potential double play that cost the Giants a ball game.

All this happened during the first week of the season. But yesterday started a new week—with different results.

Gordon, Marshall and Kerr were held hitless by Joe Hatten as the left-handed pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 3-0 triumph over Boston. But, Stanky and Dark sparked the Giants to their first triumph of the season. The pair reached base five times as the Giants defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-4.

Stanky proved he was still an excellent leadoff batter by drawing a pair of walks and singling in five trips to the plate. He scored twice.

Dark walloped a home run and double in four times at bat to boost his batting average to a lofty .421.

HATTEN ALLOWED only two singles at Boston, as the Dodgers registered their fifth straight win following their opening day loss to the Phillies. He retired 23 men in succession between Bob Elliott's second inning single and Connie Ryan's ninth inning walk.

Vic Raschi became the first New York Yankee pitcher to go the route, pitching a 6-3 victory over the Athletics in Philadelphia. It was Raschi's 12th victory over the Mackmen.

Detroit's Tigers won their fifth game in six starts, defeating the Browns in a St. Louis night game. Virgil Trucks had a one-hit shut-out for seven innings but homers by Hank Aft and Dick Kokos and a double knocked him out of the box.

Rain and wet grounds forced the postponements of the Boston Red Sox-Washington and Cleveland-Chicago games in the American League and the Chicago-Pittsburgh game in the National.

Cincinnati and St. Louis were not scheduled.

11 Mid-Western Cage Stars Are Drafted

CHICAGO, April 26—(AP)—Out of 119 college stars drafted by the 12-team National Basketball Association, 11 are from the western conference.

The champion Minneapolis Lakers drafted three. Howie Williams and Andy Butchko of Purdue and Bud Grant of Minnesota. The Lakers also got Kevin O'Shea, Notre Dame All-American, while another All-American, Bradley's Paul Unruh, went to Indianapolis. Another Indianapolis selection was Jerry Stuteville of Indiana.

Dick Schnitker of Ohio State, the third All-American from the Midwest, was Washington's first choice. His teammate, Bob Donham, was drafted by Boston.

Wisconsin's Don Rehfeldt, Big Ten scoring champion, was top choice of Baltimore. The Tri City Blackhawks, in addition to getting Bob Cousy of Holy Cross, latched in to Bill Erickson of Illinois.

Wally Osterkorn of Illinois and Lou Watson of Indiana went to the Chicago Stags. Syracuse tagged Mack Suprunowicz of Michigan.

Many of the 119 draftees undoubtedly will also be drafted by a new league, now in process of being organized with Dixie Moore as commissioner. This, of course, will open the door for competitive bidding.

Fights Last Night

Buffalo, N. Y.—Lee Oma, 196½, Newark, N. J., outpointed Vern Mitchell, 187½, Detroit, 10.

White Plains, N. Y.—Aldo Minelli, 150½, Italy, outpointed Tommy Bazzano, 148½, Middletown, Conn. 8.

London—Terry Allen, 111½, London, outpointed Honore Pratesi, 110, Marseilles, France, 15. (For British and European flyweight title).

dreau joked that, he depended on "Lemon, Feller and two days of rain."

For the last two days the Indians have been sitting around in hotel lobbies while rain and cold called off games.

Whether Bob Lemon and Bob Feller can hold up their half as well remains to be seen this season.

Boudreau, in any event, is not following the two days of rain with Lemon. For the game scheduled for today he has named Mike Garcia (0-0) to oppose Chicago's southpaw Jack Onslow, also (0-0).

Meanwhile, the Indians spent their time worrying about which of them would be cut from the roster by May 17, the day their present complement of 28 must be pared by three.

Rookies Lee Thomas and Herb Conyers appear set for the chop, but the third nominee remains in doubt.

Conyers, a first baseman, probably will be optioned to San Diego but Thomas, a draftsman, will have to be turned loose. If no major club takes him off the waiver list, he will be returned to Portland, where he starred last year at third base.

The Boston Braves present the most revamped lineup this season. Four ex-Giants, Sid Gordon, Willard Marshall, Buddy Kerr and Sam Webb, ex-Cub Gene Mauch and ex-Dodger Luis Olmo are Braves.

Bowlers Roll On At Columbus ABC

COLUMBUS, O., April 26—(AP)—Stroh's of Wyandotte, Mich., stole American Bowling Congress tourney attention yesterday with a 2,807 series, good enough for ninth place in the team standings.

Dowd Sporting Goods of St. Louis—the attraction that drew the tourney's largest week-day crowd—failed to live up to advance notice. Too many misses cut the St. Louis total to 2,678.

Led by Gene Walters with a 652 total, Stroh's scored games of 891-935-981.

Wooster Rubber Co. of Wooster, O., failed to get on the big board, but a fancy start stole most of the crowd from Dowd. After carding 976 and 923 scores, the Wooster team finished with an 893 for a 2,783 total.

William Larue of Detroit captured fourth place in the all-events yesterday with an 1,849—the fourth straight 1800 or better in ABC tournaments.

A 42-year-old husky, Larue has averaged 204 for the last four ABC jousts.

Dick Clark, 21, Camden, N. J., provided the day's other change, taking over fourth in the singles. He scored 791 on games of 242-205-244. This is Clark's first ABC.

Grand Rapids Women Roll 2903 In WIBC

ST. PAUL, April 26—(AP)—A new team, the Sanatorium Majors of Grand Rapids, Mich., perched at the top of the team standings in the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament today.

The Majors rolled 2903—second 2900 score in the 33-year history of the Congress—to displace the Straus-Frank team from San Antonio, which had led with 2769. Record team total, 2987, was rolled by the Kornitz of Milwaukee at Grand Rapids in 1947.

Leaders in other events are Loreta Rocher and Stevie Balogh of Cleveland in the doubles with 1198, Ellen Destang of New York, in the all-events with 1755, and Vivian Anderson of Ladysmith, Wis., in the singles with 612.

City Marble Tourney Playoffs Postponed

City playoffs in the V. F. W. Marble Tournament have been postponed from May 5 to May 12 and 13. District playoffs will be held May 27 in Lisbon.

Three winners who will represent St. Paul's School in the city tourney were to be determined after school today.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Phil Rizzuto, Yankees—Had a perfect four-hit day to lead the Yankees to a 6-3 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Pitching—Joe Hatten, Dodgers—held the Braves to two singles in winning, 3-0.

Track Meet Today

Salem High's untied and unpolished track team will get its first taste of competition this afternoon in a dual meet against Warren Harding High. Having been limited to only a few outdoor workouts due to poor weather, the Quaker tracksters had two previous dual meets cancelled. One, with Louisville High, has been rescheduled for Monday at Reilly field.

The Warren meet today will begin at 4 p. m.

STRIKES TO SPARE

The Salem Bowling Association's new officers, who will direct operations next season, were announced at last Saturday's annual banquet at the Saxon Club.

Paul "Judy" Myers was elected president by the voters. The four vice presidents will be Carlton Campbell, Charles Davis, Ray Knopp and Jerry Colaizzi. Don Smith was re-elected secretary of the association.

The executive committee includes: Andrew Arnold, William Krings, Robert Stacey and Dale Klingensmith.

A disappointingly small attendance was recorded at the banquet.

Quinn Says Charges "Absolutely False"

CLEVELAND, April 26—(AP)—Frank M. Quinn termed charges against him of improper campaign conduct "absolutely false."

The former department of motor vehicles chief who seeks the Democratic nomination for state treasurer said the charges by his rival, State Representative John J. Gallagher, represent:

"A desperate last-minute effort to injure my overwhelmingly favored candidacy by innuendo and sensationalism."

He declared he had not been notified of a hearing into the charges set for Friday by the board of elections.

But Quinn asserted he did not use state civil service employees or cars to further his campaign and did not receive "kickbacks" from deputy motor vehicle registrars.

He also denied that Governor Frank J. Lausche's administration ordered his campaign posters set up in motor vehicle offices or that John E. Elder, Cuyahoga county deputy registrar, "made profligate expenditures" for him, "distributing varying substantial sums of money by filling in blank checks" signed by Quinn.

Quinn said he had spent only $142 so far in Cuyahoga county and that Elder had filled in only one check and that for $25. That check, he said, was written by Elder because Quinn did not know if it should go to an individual or his ward club.

Maragon's Case Goes Before Jury

WASHINGTON, April 26—

(AP)—Criminal charges that John Maragon, a former White House intimate, lied to Senate investigators about his financial and business affairs were placed in the hands of federal jury today.

The jury of nine men and three women got the case at 10:54 a. m. and retired to decide whether to free Maragon or find him guilty.

The government has pictured Maragon as a man who circulated around government departments representing business firms, saying he spoke for Presidential Military Aide Harry Vaughan and came from the White House.

The defense contended the Greek-born, former Kansas City bootblack did nothing wrong in any dealings with government agencies. It insisted the government failed to prove he lied to Senate questioners.

Federal Judge Jennings Bailey told the jurors that whether Maragon did right or wrong was not the issue—that what they had to decide was whether he committed perjury.

"The question for you to determine," Bailey said in a 25-minute talk to the jury, "is whether, when he testified, he testified to facts that were not true and which he believed to be not true."

New Weapons Disclosed

Atomic Sub, New Aircraft Gun Due

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—The Army expects soon to have weapons that will knock down 12-mile-high warplanes. The Navy is ready to build an atomic-powered submarine.

And a huge viking rocket will be launched next month from a ship on the equator in mid-Pacific to carry aloft instruments for recording information on the cosmic ray.

These striking new developments in the country's campaign of military preparedness were disclosed, one after the other, in quick succession yesterday.

Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, Chief of Naval Operations, revealed that scientists were ready to use atomic power in undersea craft when he asked Congress for authority to build a "U-235-boat."

This announcement followed the disclosure last week of a sudden switch in atomic development work, to push the design and building of a ship propulsion unit powered by nuclear energy. Two big industrial contractors, Westinghouse Electric and General Electric, are working on the project for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Sherman gave no hint as to the design of the atomic-sub, estimated to cost $40,000,000.

In asking for money to push a $335,000,000 stepped-up construction program, however, he referred to the craft, along with others on which the Navy is working, as being of "radical design."

The U-235 boat was given fourth priority among the projects he listed. These included:

An undersea vessel that would use hydrogen peroxide as a source of oxygen, a 250-ton pig-a-back radar picket submarine, a larger submersible with a "closed circuit" power plant, a cruiser converted into a guided missile combat vessel, ten additional submarines with the German-developed snorkel breathing tube, and a fleet of new-type shallow-draft mine sweepers.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Charles Brown

LISBON, April 26—Mrs. Maebel Brown, 55, of near Summitville succumbed to a coronary thrombosis in an ambulance here at 4:15 p. m. Tuesday while being removed to a doctor's office. She had just left a doctor's office and had walked less than one-half a block when she suffered the attack.

She was born in Chester, W. Va., Dec. 5, 1894, the daughter of Everett and Blanche Neiswonger. She lived near Summitville for 36 years, following her marriage to Charles C. Brown.

Her husband survives, along with a son, Alvin; four sisters, Mrs. Ruth Phillips and Mrs. Lewis Wright of Summitville; Mrs. Harley Kelch of Lisbon, Mrs. Harriett Peterson of Ravenna; two brothers, George of Kensington and Lewis of R. D., Lisbon; five grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the Millport Bethesda Presbyterian Church. Burial will be made in Millport Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Maple funeral home, Kensington, Thursday.

North Lima Girl Hurt In Route 165 Mishap

Edith Harnevious, 17, of North Lima who received minor injuries in an accident Sunday on Route 165 near North Lima, was a passenger in the car driven by Richard Bartholomew.

Burns Chamberlain, 25, of R. D. 1, North Lima was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Lloyd Culler of Washingtonville for driving left of center. He was the driver of the other car which sideswiped the Bartholomew auto.

Miss Harnevious was not riding in the Chamberlain car as was incorrectly reported in an earlier story.

$840 A HEAD

CLEVELAND, April 26—(AP)—A record average of $840 a head for the Ohio Tool Co.'s dairy herd of 182 animals was bid at a two-day auction at nearby Strongsville. Auctioneers said the previous high average this year was $568 in Maryland. The herd and the OTCO farms were sold to satisfy a federal tax claim.

villages will send Gladys Safred of Leetonia R. D. 1.

Salem's colors will be carried by Curtice Loop, a seventh-grade girl.

East Liverpool will send Carol Sue Burks and Katherine Wolfe from Washington School. Wellsville will be represented by Janet Louise Ice of Garfield School.

And from Midland will come Rhonda Moll, the only Beaver County Representative in this year's contest.

All of the other entries are from Jefferson and Harrison counties in Ohio and Washington county in Pennsylvania.

BEFORE the youngsters face the firing line at Grant School, they will be guests, along with their parents, at a dinner at the Fort Steuben Hotel, starting at 6 o'clock.

During a brief program at the hotel, each local champion will be given a pen for having won in the local contests. They also will be assigned numbers which will identify them for the audience during the contest.

Then the scene will shift to Grant School . . . and the grand finals!

Two Minor Accidents Occur On City Streets

Two minor traffic accidents were reported to police Tuesday. No one was injured, but three cars were damaged.

Walter Worman of 850 E. Pershing st., said he was driving east on W. State st. and turned left onto Jennings. As he made the turn, a car operated by Francis D. Archer of Akron drove from a service station and hit the right rear fender of Worman's car. Both vehicles were damaged.

Robert Hale of Box 48, Salem, backed his truck from the A & P parking lot on E. State st. at 2:15 p. m. Tuesday. The rear of the truck hit the right front fender of a car operated by S. M. Johnston of E. State st., damaging the auto.

Rep. Wetzel Voices Turnpike Opposition

State Representative Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon voiced opposition to the proposed Ohio turnpike when he spoke to Rotary Club members Tuesday in the Memorial Building.

Although he declared himself in favor of good roads for Ohio, he pointed out that the toll road would be a "white elephant" for the state. Pennsylvania, he said, has not paid off any of the huge indebtedness for its superhighway. He charged that lobbyists for materials and road companies were exercising pressure in Columbus to extend the toll road into Ohio.

Venice, commercial center of the 15th century, was the home port of 3300 ships, with a total carrying capacity of 150,000 tons, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.
